

Hurray! Exclaimed Basma and Hossam. Ebullience and Buoyancy surged in their veins instead of blood as they welcomed their vacations with open arms. The children's joy knew no bounds as they were with their family and their parents on an exhilarating holiday to Cairo. The fulgent fireball was grinning down on them. They were as busy as beavers exploring the pyramids like explorers. They were stunned with the beatific pyramids . Cairo was indeed a heaven for tourists! While ambling, Basma and Hossam were doleful as they were lost. While roaming , they saw a stupendous pyramid and were awe- struck seeing queer writings on the door. Out of the blue, the door opened. The children's stomach was in knots and they trembled like freshly caught fish. They gulped and entered the pyramid carefully and went into the atramentous tunnel. The children were petrified as they saw that the gargantuan walls which were bedecked with spectacular pictures which appeared like an artist's canvas and they were a treat to the eyes. Basma and Hossam were shocked to see the attractive and renowned figures of the gods and goddesses they had learned in their history class. What the children saw was etched in their mind . As they moved at a snail's pace. Their face gleamed with ecstasy and capered up and down and their eyes became wide and round like the size of soccer balls. They were enthusiastic to find exorbitant treasure , but unfortunately, the cumbrous tomb door creaked, the children's heart pounded like a jackhammer as a dreadful mummy emerged from the tomb. It was wrapped in filthy bandages and as it emerged from the tomb, it emitted a foul stench. They Bellowed and sprinted out. As soon as they stepped out, and idea struck Hossam's head like a lightning bolt and it was fire in head. He promptly shut the pyramid door . The children were panting and heaved a sigh of relief. They returned to their enraged parents who reprimanded them. The children were elated that they were safe and this petrifying visit was etched in their mind like a scar.

Q] CONJUNCTIONS [ Do as directed :]

1] The child came running. He whispered into my ears. [ Coordinator ]

The child came running and He whispered into my ears.

2] He rested for a day. He sprained his ankle [ Subordinator]

He rested for a day because he sprained his ankle.

3] Anjali is a gifted dancer . Anjali is a musician. [ Correlative]

Anjali is both a gifted dancer and a musician

4] I don't like exercise. I don't like yoga. [ Coordinator]

I don't like exercise and yoga.

5] The thief ran . He did not want to be beaten.[ Subordinator]

The thief ran because he didn't want to be beaten.

6] The residents went to meet the Mayor. He refused to see them.

[Coordinator]

The residents went to see the Mayor but he refused to see them

7] We had a long and tiring day. We were not sleepy. [Coordinator]

We had a long and tiring day ~~so~~ yet we were not sleepy

8] The animal escaped. The cage door was open. [Subordinator]

The animal escaped because the cage door was open.

9] Josh was a great orator. He is a good singer. [Correlative]

Josh is not only a great orator but also is a good singer.

10] Ravi needed some extra money. He took up a part time job.

[Coordinator]

Ravi needed some extra money so he took up a part-time job.

11] I came across a college friend. I was walking towards the market. [Subordinator]

I came across a college friend while I was walking towards the market.

